

FILING: NOTICE OF IMPOSSIBILITY OF PHYSICAL ATTENDANCE AND MANDATORY VIDEO PARTICIPATION

Proceedings: BON202500269, BON202500558, BON202500561

Name: jessica leigh collins

Date: 8 December 2025

I present this Notice of Impossibility of Physical Attendance and Mandatory Video Participation.

Physical attendance on 9 December 2025 is impossible. The danger, obstruction, violence, and retaliation surrounding me were created by the same authorities directing me to appear. Entering the Courthouse removes my safety, my evidence, and my legal and lawful ability to participate. Safe physical attendance does not exist. The impossibility of attendance is established and documented.

I will not appear in person on 9 December 2025. This is not refusal and not non-cooperation. It is a legally recognized impossibility created by the state's own conduct. My non-appearance cannot be used as a basis for punishment, detention, or adverse decision because the state created the conditions that prevent attendance.

The hearing must be conducted by video. Video participation is the only legal and lawful format under the conditions created around me. I am prepared and able to participate fully by video. The refusal to provide a video link removes my right to appear, my right to be heard, and my right to participate.

Any attempt to arrest or detain me for "non-appearance" creates personal liability for every official involved. The Court, the IND-CN, and the police have full knowledge that physical attendance is impossible and that the danger originated from their institutions. Any attempt to use my impossibility as grounds for detention constitutes illegal and unlawful conduct and creates full state accountability for actions taken against me.

The advancement of the hearing date from 30 January 2026 to 9 December 2025 was coercive, illegal, and unlawful. The advancement removed preparation time and was coordinated with the withdrawal of representation immediately after I filed a criminal report. This timeline establishes coercion and an attempt to engineer a silent deportation.

The assaults I reported and documented, including beating and strangulation, occurred when I attempted to contact journalists and attorneys about the media coverage of my trafficking case and my daughter's murder. These acts were intended to silence me and restrict access to help. They form part of the same coercion and retaliation tied to the advanced hearing date and withdrawal of representation.

The government is engaged in a silent deportation. These proceedings are being used to return me to the United States without a fair hearing, while authorities know I am a trafficking victim connected to high-profile criminal networks, and that U.S. return places my life in immediate danger.

I require English-language portal instructions and an English index of all documents on my case file. The Court already communicates with me in English. Access to the file and portal requires English instructions. I cannot prepare or participate without them. The Court is obligated to provide them.

My former attorney leaked protected information and increased the danger to my life. The IND denial was leaked to attorney Anthony Nicolaas, who used it in an article in Extra Bonaire. The Court is now copying him directly on scheduling communications. This breach confirms why physical attendance is impossible and why video participation is mandatory.

Every action taken since my police reports constitutes interference, obstruction, and retaliation. This includes violence, attempts to block medical documentation, refusal of video access, and coerced advancement of the hearing. These conditions establish state-created danger and liability.

My asylum appeal and all linked proceedings remain active: BON202500269, BON202500558, and BON202500561. These proceedings cannot continue without safe participation. I preserve all rights and defenses.

I present this Notice to preserve my rights and to document the impossibility created by the state and its agents. Video participation is the only legal and lawful path forward under the conditions established around me.
